 Imperfect Tense Notes

So far we have learned 2 tenses: _____ and _____

Which tense describes actions that are currently happening?

Which tense describes actions that will happen?

Today we are learning a third tense: imperfect tense

The Imperfect tense is a past progressive tense, which means the actions were happening continuously in a previous time.

There are 3 ways to translate imperfect tense:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Examples:

1. The farmer was walking in the fields.
2. The woman used to love the man.
3. The teacher kept warning the bad students.

Give your own examples in English for each translation option:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

To form imperfect tense, you follow the same formula as present and future tenses:
